Dear Sir/Madam,

SHC 2012 Proceedings now online in Elsevier's Energy Procedia

The conference proceedings of SHC 2012 are now published in Elsevier's Energy Procedia. All accepted papers are freely accessible and contain linked references, XML versions and DOI numbers for each paper. All papers published in the Energy Procedia conference proceedings will be covered by Scopus and will be accessible on sciencedirect.com to remain traceable and citable. The proceedings are available here.

The SHC 2013 Conference is open for the Submission of Abstracts!

The IEA Solar Heating & Cooling Programme (IEA SHC) and the European Solar Thermal Industry Federation (ESTIF) are pleased to invite you to join SHC 2013, the International Conference on Solar Heating and Cooling for Buildings and Industry, which will take place from September 23 to 25, 2013 in Freiburg, Germany.

SHC 2013 offers a unique discussion platform for the international solar thermal community. We invite all technical experts, as well as marketing specialists and policy makers, to present their work and exchange views and ideas. The conference topics are available here. The deadline for abstract submission is April 26, 2013. Please upload your abstract at www.shc2013.org, following the instructions given on the website. The template for the preparation of the abstract is available here. The conference proceedings shall be published with Elsevier in Energy Procedia. Additionally, we plan to publish a special edition of selected papers in a peer reviewed journal.

Sponsorship Packages now available

SHC 2013 offers numerous sponsorship opportunities, with a wide variety of packages to suit any budget. All our sponsors will be present before, during and after the conference as dedicated supporters of SHC 2013.

We wish you all a very successful New Year and look forward to receiving your abstracts.

Kind regards,
the SHC 2013 Organizing Team
